Bio

Certified to practice public accounting in both Arizona and Colorado, my private practice specializes in providing tax strategy and planning to real estate industry professionals and assisting them in saving cash to use in their business or investments since 1996. My firm is dedicated to stopping clients from wasting their dollars paying taxes which they are not legally required to do. In addition to developing successful tax strategies and plans, I assist clients with implementing those plans by offering additional strategic planning services.

As a CPA, I have served as an Officer of the Court in roles such as Business Receiver, Guardian, Conservator, and Personal Representative.

Prior to developing my practice, I worked with Martin Marietta, General Dynamics and Phelps Dodge Corporations performing financial management activities such as developing budgets, measuring financial performance, creating new business proposals, analyzing financial systems, and improving processes. In addition to the financial management tasks, I analyzed accounting systems and documentation in support of both civil and criminal financial investigations related to potential business fraud, including deceptive and defective pricing.
